

Modern Recreational Arena Planned for Field Club

Work To Be Under Way Soon

Modern Grand Stand
First Item on Big
Improvement Program

Recreational program involving the rehabilitation and renovation of the Field Club as a center for all sports activity in the Village is within the immediate plans of the city, City Manager William Alworth said this week.

The program long under discussion by city councilmen, Villagers and visitors who have decried the lack of recreational facilities here will become a fact in the near future.

INCLUDED in the plan of reconstructing the Field club and converting it to a modern sports plant are: at least two softball diamonds, a baseball diamond, tennis courts, swimming pool, wading pool for children, bowling green, archery range, club house and a building which will permit sportsmen to dress and shower before and after games.

On the immediate horizon, it was announced, is the re-building of the grandstand and bleachers at the Field club. Alworth this week was seeking information from construction companies relative to the reconstruction of the grandstand, now of wood, to a steel structure.

IN ADDITION Major George Braden, western representative of the National Recreation association, with office in Pasadena will be asked to come to Palm Springs, and make a survey of recreational needs of the Village and report back to city council.

The construction program, which will spread over a long period on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, is expected to be financed by the city sales tax, 75 per cent of which is earmarked for capital improvement.

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

It surely gives my heart a wrench
To see the Drive without a bench.

Last week the Los Angeles newspapers recounted the opening of a Los Angeles department store's new shop at Crenshaw and Santa Barbara avenue. . . . The accompanying illustration plainly showed two benches facing in Crenshaw. . . . Thanks to the seven people who sent in clippings of that picture with appropriate notations. . . . Beth Scott, former Village newsgirl, penned on her contribution: "Not one bench—but two!" . . . Adding "Shame on Palm Springs! let Los Angeles get ahead of us."

ANOTHER NOTE accompanying a clipping indicated the writer was in an uncomplimentary frame of mind insofar as the city administration was concerned. . . . Because Pop Gorham so jealously guards what goes through the mail, I refrain from quoting. . . . A member of that self-same maligned administration who refused to let his name be used, said that if we had benches people would get the idea that the Village's favorite author was Smokey Snyder and that the best sellers here were the National Scratch sheet and the Form. . . . That's why he didn't want his name used. . . . Was afraid people would wonder how he could recognize these informative periodicals while striding briskly by—unless he knew them well. . . . Or un-well.

WHILE most of the publicity appearing in outside newspapers is favorable and depicts Palm Springs as the mecca for Big Names and Top Drawer Personalities from far and wide, once in a while some newspapers gleefully take a poke at us. . . . Most of these unfriendly slaps are taken by writers who can't hear the telephone because of their earmuffs and can't hit the keyboard board deftly because of their mittens. . . . For instance, in the Worcester, Mass., Gazette, appeared a headline story that raids on automobiles here had reached epidemic proportions and a solemn admonition was given New Englanders fleeing the frost-bitten pumpkins for Palm Springs sunshine to keep their cars "double-locked." . . . Bill Davis of the Colonial House spotted that one and phoned it in. . . . Seems he reads all of the New England newspapers.

IT STILL RUNS—Chugging along contentedly among the Packards, Cadillacs and other high-priced and high-powered cars was this 1902 Sears Motor Buggy which found a parking place here en route across the nation. J. K. Ruth, owner, stands by proudly. (Frank Partridge photo.)

Prepare Now Or Fight Later Officer Warns

Speaking in favor of universal military training, Col. Carl J. Crane, in an address before the Palm Springs Masonic Luncheon club Tuesday, warned this country will "have to pay now for many things in order to insure the peace of the future."

Approximately 100 Village and visiting Masons heard the speaker describe in layman's language the six-point program for national defense as recommended by the presidents' committee on universal training.

THE MEETING was presided over by Jerry Sanborn who introduced Wilbur P. Davis who then presented the speaker.

Colonel Crane declared this country is languishing in the same false security as followed World War I. He urged persons in this country to become aware of the grave world situation and to be prepared.

He said that never again will this country have time to look around for aluminum pots or pans or other scrap metal for use by the armed forces.

"By the time that is done," declared the Colonel, "the pooled metals will be blown up and so will the collector."

HE URGED that now, in peace, this country should begin the accumulation of huge stocks of material that can be used in case of conflict.

Most of all Col. Crane urged, that the populace should be educated to "better understand the type of government we enjoy as compared to others in the world."

Election

Teen Target Officials
Being Named This Week

Teen-agers at Teen-Target are balloting this week on officers for their organization. On the slate and being voted upon are Don Miller and Morrie Aitken for president; Bob Flavin and Joe Flavin for vice-president; Ruth Margulies and Brownie Brown for treasurer; and Sandra Veano and Nancy Nye for secretary.

Various committees for the Center will be appointed by these officers later.

Ancient

1902 Model Automobile
Finds Parking Spot Here

Chugging smoothly into Palm Springs Wednesday was a 1902 Sears Motor Buggy with J. K. Ruth of York, Pa., at wheel, pardon us, tiller.

The motor, reconditioned once in the 45 years since it first started to purr, was going smoothly as Ruth tillered it into a parking spot down-town.

It's a two-cylinder power plant and gets a lot of mileage to the gallon. Ruth is taking a pleasure jaunt across the country from York, his home town, and back. The car was originally bought by his uncle, Marcellus Duehl of York.

Junior C. of C.
Meeting Slated
Tuesday Night

Second meeting of the newly organized Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce has been definitely set for 7:30 p.m., December 3 in the dining room of the Pago Pago.

The meeting place was decided upon when it was found impossible to book any other place large enough to seat the members.

Don Artz, temporary chairman, elected at the first meeting, announced that applications for membership from among the young men of the Village are pouring in.

AN ATTENDANCE of at least fifty members and prospective members in the new organization is expected, it was announced.

Applications may be obtained at the chamber of commerce, 310 North Palm Canyon drive, or at the business offices of the following members down town:

Robson Chambers, 869 North Palm Canyon drive; Jack McCoy, Bank of America; John A. Chambers, Palm Springs Appliance Co.; Zachary Pitts, Palm Springs Cleaners; Donald M. Artz, Pago Pago; Roland Vaile, KCMJ, in The Center, and Ed Thompson, Bank of America.

Thoughtless Motorists

Ignorance or Indifference to Meaning of Emergency Vehicle Sirens Can Be Costly

Too many people do not know the law—do not know what they are supposed to do when they hear the siren and see the red light of an emergency vehicle.

Police, answering an emergency call, hurrying to save a life, face death on the streets of Palm Springs countless times.

This was indicated in the brazen indifference or just plain pigheadedness on the part of motorists who paid no heed to the wailing siren of a police vehicle and the screaming ambulance Monday afternoon as both raced to the aid of a traffic victim near Tramview Village.

Hotel Men to Adopt Uniform Code for City

With several important matters of business on the agenda, a meeting of all hotel and apartment house owners and operators of Palm Springs today was scheduled by Stanley Rosin, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Hotel and Apartment Division, at a breakfast in the La Paz Guest Ranch dining room next Thursday, December 4.

Highlighting the list of subjects to be up for action will be the adoption of a set of rules and regulations covering operation of all hotels and apartments within the Village. At present each establishment has its own rules and there has been an increasing demand from many of them for a uniform code of ethics, according to Chairman Rosin.

Another important matter for discussion will be the Chamber of Commerce program for planning special events in April and May with a view to lengthening the season here. Also up for consideration will be the question of special spring and fall rates, plans for conventions and several other equally important topics.

Reservations for the breakfast, which will be served at 8 a.m., must be made with the Chamber of Commerce office, phones 6111 and 6181.

Fetid Is Mild

No Matter What Webster Says—It's a Skunk

It doesn't have the aroma of an appetizing Thanksgiving Day turkey basting in the oven and that's why J. Hammond, 334 Hermosa place, complained to the police.

He wants them to deport what Noah Webster defines as:

"An American nocturnal, burrowing carnivorous mammal allied to the weasel which emits a fetid secretion when annoyed, frightened or pursued."

And this particular mammal apparently has been annoyed or frightened. If pursued, too, it wasn't by him.

Youth Still Unconscious After Injury In Automobile Crash

Extension of Season Aim Of Chamber

Attractions for Early Fall, Late Spring, Object of Search

Ways and means to promote more business for Palm Springs in the late Spring and early Fall were discussed by directors of the chamber of commerce meeting at the Fiesta House Monday evening. Plans were adopted for a series of events in April and May designed to interest both Villagers and visitors. Hotel and apartment house owners and the community's various organizations will be asked to cooperate in the program.

Many of the directors expressed the belief that, except for winter visitors from the east, more people can be induced to stay here in April and May, and many vacationists attracted from along the West Coast.

PALM SPRINGS has a particular advantage at that time, it was pointed out, because of the fogs along the coast. Events for April and May are needed more than ever this year, directors decided, because the Desert Circus is being held earlier.

The directors also decided to have all memberships in the chamber on a calendar year basis hereafter. A budget for the full year's activities can be set up in January based on funds it is known will be available. The pledge cards mailed to all business houses recently will be considered as membership for the year 1948. Funds to maintain the organization are badly needed right now, it was pointed out to the directors, so an appeal is being made to all, who can conveniently do so, to mail subscriptions in now for their 1948 membership.

PRESIDENT Florian Boyd told the directors that what the chamber of commerce needs mostly is the active assistance of the members—particularly a membership committee. Members and directors will have to devote at least a small part of their time to work of the chamber if it is to serve effectively, Boyd said.

Harry Harper, general manager, reviewed the work of the chamber and said that most businessmen did not realize the large volume of routine business which the organization must carry on. He said that the chamber would start right away on the program of events for April and May.

Protection

City Employees Sign For Health Insurance

Seventy per cent of Palm Springs city employees, ten per cent more than necessary, have signed up for the Blue Cross Hospital service of Southern California and the Blue Shield California Physician Service, City Manager W. E. Alworth reported Wednesday.

The plan will go into effect December 25. Payment will be made through a payroll deduction plan starting January 1.

Circus

President To Be Named By Directors Soon

Nominating committee of the Palm Springs Desert Circus association is expected to convene next week to decide on a candidate for the presidency of the organization.

The nominee will be voted upon by directors later to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Bennett.

Vandals

Hold Safe Lead in Desert Sun Contest

Unless a miracle happens, the Village Vandals are in. They have a long lead over the Tahquitz Twisters with only two days remaining in The Desert Sun subscription contest.

The two high school teams of five girls and five boys each have been doing great work and have kept the subscriptions rolling in.

Next week the results will be officially tabulated and the $170 in prizes distributed to the winners. Besides the prizes the students have earned substantial sums in commissions.

K. K. Youngs supervised the contest with Don Dubose capturing the Vandals and Ann Wells the Twisters.

Need Funds For Christmas Tree Party

The Village "working girls," all members of the Palm Springs Business Women's Club, who last week announced that they have undertaken the task of "bringing" Santa Claus to town for the kiddies, are in need of help—that financial kind.

According to their plans, Santa is scheduled to arrive in the Village December 19. Again he will pass out hundreds of stockings to children around a giant Christmas tree located at the Francis Stevens school.

BUT THE where-withal with which to purchase the goodies has become a burning question and is now a quest on the part of these good, hard working gals.

The Christmas party for children in the Village started 21 years ago in Palm Springs and there was always a sponsor but the town has grown since the first few have been held and there are even more children in Palm Springs than there was a year ago.

THIS YEAR the annual project was without a sponsor until the Palm Springs Business Women's Club volunteered to take time out from personal and individual duties to stage the event.

An organization not more than a year old, and all willing, eager and able, there is only one thing that is troubling the members of the Women's Business Club and that is the aforementioned finances with which to gladden the hearts of several hundred children.

SO FAR IT HAS been determined that Santa Claus will arrive on the morning of December 19 and that the parade centered around this benevolently bearded figure shall start down Palm Canyon drive at 2 p. m. And that's a must, come what may.

CLOSER COOPERATION among the hotel and apartment house owners of the Palm Springs area would benefit themselves as well as the community at large. This is particularly true because there are so many new owners and managers who may be unfamiliar with problems that confront this type of business. There seems to be no uniformity at all of rules and regulations, rate schedules and other cooperative measures that would help in keeping our visitors satisfied.

There are many matters that could be included in such a cooperative program. A uniform plan for off-season rate reductions might be agreed upon which could be given wide publicity. The hotels might work together on all-expense tours to Palm Springs. The operators have many common problems that could be solved or relieved by unified action. This would result in improved service to patrons and serve to benefit the entire community.

The rumor persists, especially along the coast, that accommodations are not available in Palm Springs. We know that it is now easier for visitors to find accommodations here and that more units are coming in all the time. Some publicity should be devised to counteract this wrong impression, particularly in the spring and fall. Apartment and hotel owners could work out a program of publicity through the local Chamber of Commerce that should be effective.

More cooperation among ALL of the business interests or the Village is needed—badly needed. With changing conditions the need is more keenly felt than ever before. How about the hotel and apartment house owners showing the way?

Battles for Life 3 Days After Crash

Passenger in Car Escapes Injury in Mishap Near City

Lingering between life and death and with only a small margin in his favor that he will survive, Lyle Kinslow, 33, Calimesa, traffic victim, lies unconscious and unaware of the battle doctors are waging for his life in the Palm Springs Community hospital.

Last Monday afternoon while driving from his work at Palm Desert, Kinslow attempting to avoid a collision with an automobile about to turn to the left in front of him, lost control of the vehicle.

The automobile turned over twice in soft sand at the side of the road near the Tramview Village, catapulting Kinslow and a friend, Ray Shutt, from the automobile.

Kinslow suffered severe lacerations of the head and a severe concussion of the brain from which he has not recovered consciousness. Shutt was uninjured.

Yesterday attending physicians reported that the traffic victim had developed bronchial pneumonia.

Operator of the other automobile in the accident was Melvin A. Anderson, 420 Redlands.

Slogan Tuesday

Winner To Be Revealed Next Week Is Word

Winners in the Clean-Up committee's slogan contest will be announced Tuesday of next week.

The five judges looked them over the forepart of the week but were unable to agree on a decision and asked for another day. With the Thanksgiving holiday intervening, that made it too late for this issue.

Many new catchy slogans were entered up to the deadline by Villagers eager to see Palm Springs spic and span.

Live Eastern lobsters arrived at the local airport from Boston Thursday destined for Al Patane's market, Cathedral City.

"Something Doing"
Every Night of Week
Planned for Ranch

Development of another popular spot where Villagers as well as ranch guests may find "something doing" every night of the week was the plan of M. A. Charleston, manager of the La Paz guest ranch under the new ownership, it was announced this week.

J. R. Fouch is selling the La Paz to Mrs. N. Sheenman of Seattle and Mrs. Edith Wolcott of Red Bank, New Jersey, the deal to become effective Dec. 2. Charleston, present manager of the guest ranch, will continue in that capacity.

Carl Rhodes, son of Mrs. Sheenman, who negotiated the deal, and representative of the new owners, and Charleston are planning many innovations at the La Paz.

The highly popular Western dances each Thursday night will continue as a feature.

Christmas Seals were delivered to 2045 homes in this area this week according to Mrs. B. H. Poliak, Seal Sale chairman for Palm Springs. Mrs. Poliak pointed out that this is the 41st year the sale has been conducted on a national scale.

"During that time," she said, "tuberculosis has been reduced from first to seventh place as a cause of death."

"Thirty-five years ago," she continued, "Christmas Seals were first sold in this area as Riverside county joined in the national crusade to conquer an enemy which took the lives of 200 people out of each 100,000 in California's population that year."

"LAST YEAR the California death rate had been reduced to 40.7 per 100,000, and the Christmas Seals have won wider and wider favor as symbols of a life saving crusade."

Mrs. Poliak pointed out that Riverside county's death rate is still excessively high being 50% above the national average.

"Two sheets of Seals were enclosed in each letter," Mrs. Poliak said. "There is, of course, no obligation to buy, but we have learned from past experience that people do buy, and use as many of them as they can afford."

"The campaign will continue through December, but we hope people will find it convenient to make their returns early," she said.

Ma Hoskins Sneezed at Cats!

Ma Hoskins couldn't understand why she got a fit of sneezing every time Harpo, the cat, came in the room. Finally figured she'd have to get rid of Harpo altogether.

Then Doc Hollister explained she had an "allergy." Cat's fur made her sneeze like strawberries give some folks rash. He gave her an inoculation so she and Harpo could live sneezelessly together.

I guess a lot of us have "allergies" in the social sense. Some folks just can't stand movies, or radio comedians. Other folks don't go for beer. Myself, I enjoy a moderate glass of beer or two with friends... but it's up to them what beverage they choose.

From where I sit, the important thing is not to let our social allergies result in antisocial taboos. Let's not criticize the fellow who likes beer if we like cider. A little inoculation of tolerance can help us live-and-let-live happily together.

Indian Land Fraud Case To be Resumed Tuesday

Preliminary trial of the three Long Beach men accused of selling Palm Springs Indian Reservation land has been continued until December 2, when the hearing will be resumed with the defense either presenting its case or resting.

Defense counsel for John S. Madill, 60, Walter G. Kloppe, 50, and Adolph Shottette, 49, had obtained a promise from the prosecution that a two-week postponement would be granted after the state's case had been presented. Municipal Judge Wilbur F. Downs, in whose court the trial consumed five days, granted the postponement.

The defendants saw approximately 30 witnesses take the stand to testify for the state.

Among those witnesses was Clarence H. Perdue, local Indian agent.

Approximately 20 Agua Caliente Indians, owners of the land assertedly sold by the three accused men, were called as witnesses to Long Beach but did not testify. The defense agreed to a prosecution stipulation that the Indians had not given permission to the three defendants to sell their lands.

THE DEEPER MEANING

Thanksgiving Day has been observed by the American people since 1623. It was in that year that the Pilgrim colony reaped their first fine harvest. Until then, our early settlers who sailed to America on the Mayflower had suffered great privation.

The first national Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1789, was named by George Washington. In 1864, Abraham Lincoln issued a proclamation declaring the fourth Thursday of November as the day for all loyal Americans to give reverent thanks for the high ideals of freedom and liberty—ideals which no right-minded citizen will permit to be jockeyed around and finally destroyed.

TURKEY, with all the trimmings, is by no means the root of Thanksgiving Day. Those who believe it is should seek the deeper meaning, and rededicate themselves to it.

For example—on last Monday, the peoples' Congress voted 346 to 17 to uphold the Un-American Activities Committee in its charges that 10 Hollywood writers and directors defied the committee by refusing to answer whether they were members of the Communist party. The 346 Representatives who voted to uphold expressed the opinions of their constituents throughout the nation. They voted as Americans and not as members of either political party.

OF THE SEVENTEEN WHO stood up in the House of Representatives and tried to defeat the aim of the Un-American Activities Committee to wipe out communist conspiracy in this nation, three are Californians: 1. Helen Gahagan Douglas of Los Angeles; 2. Frank Havenner of San Francisco; and 3. Chet Holifield of Los Angeles. That is a shameful record for this State, and one the voters in their districts should well remember on election day in November, 1948.

Those who declare that the Congress of the United States is on trial before the American people because it dared to do its duty, should analyze the vote of last Monday—346 to 17—with due diligence. The American people enjoyed a real Thanksgiving yesterday. At least they had no doubts about the great majority in their House of Representatives who voted for true Americanism.

Thoughtless...

BOTH THE POLICE and the firemen foresee the day when a serious catastrophe is bound to occur unless lazy, careless or lawless motorists hearken and heed the wail of the police or fire siren.

Still despite the law which reads that a motorist must pull over as far to the right as possible and stop until the police or fire emergency vehicle has passed, motorists indifferently continue to drive narrowing the passage which the speeding official cars must squeeze through, endangering the life of many on the streets.

ONE MOTORIST after another, Monday afternoon, all along the two-mile route to the scene of the head-on collision, lazily continued to drive along, lost in a world of their own.

The Desert Sun reporter, riding with Officer Ted Greene, held on to the seat tightly. Topping all the interference encountered, with only inches to spare between a disastrous crash or safely negotiating the seemingly too narrow clearance between north and south traffic, was a green coupe.

The reporter's hair already standing on end and ashen white from the numerous narrow escapes, gripped the seat tightly. A crash with the green coupe seemed inevitable. Greene only mumbled something under his breath and maneuvered the speeding automobile safely past the "blocking" vehicle.

"IT HAPPENS EVERY TIME," declared Chief of Police August Kettmann. People just forget that

Merchants Meet
El Centro Squad
There on Sunday

Palm Springs Merchants were due to play their third game in the newly formed Valley League Sunday at El Centro where they meet the El Centro Merchants.

It is the first of two away-from-home games left on the first half schedule for the Villagers. The other three games will be played at the Field Club here.

The Eastside Merchants of Brawley are due here Dec. 7 and the Brawley Shippers on Dec. 14.

On Dec. 21 the Palm Springs Merchants meet another Brawley team, the Clippers, in a game played at Calipatria.

Final game of the first round of the season will be played here Dec. 23 with the Golden West Sports of El Centro.

Manager Bob Martin of the Merchants is seeking assistance from sports-minded Villagers to help defray transportation costs of next Sunday's jaunt to El Centro and the trip to Calipatria Dec. 21.

a wailing siren means get out of the way. Who knows to whom the ambulance or the police may be speeding to render aid?

Bill Leonasio, chief of the fire department, when asked if men in his department experience the same harrowing death traps declared:

"I expect that one of these days the fire truck will crash into one of these automobiles whose driver will not get out of the way. Serious consequences may result to both the firemen and others."

THE LAW requiring the clearance of the right-of-way on the approach of an emergency vehicle is plain.

In part it reads as follows:

"Section 554—Upon the immediate approach of an authorized emergency vehicle giving an audible signal by siren and having at least one lighted lamp exhibiting a red light visible under normal atmospheric conditions; the driver of every other vehicle shall yield the right-of-way and shall immediately drive to a position parallel to, and as close as possible to, the right hand edge or curb of the highway clear of any intersection and thereupon stop and remain in such a position until such authorized emergency vehicle has passed, except when otherwise directed by a police or traffic officer."

Observance of this law will save lives—Be alive and stay alive.

Telephone Co.
Expanding to Meet Growth

The development in the desert in the last few years has been beyond all expectation, particularly in and around Palm Springs, Bill Nash, the district telephone manager, said today.

To provide for the installation of telephone service for the flood of applicants, large additions to the telephone system are being made, both in the central office and to the outside distribution plant, as fast as the equipment and materials can be secured from the manufacturers.

RECENTLY the switchboard required to make long distance connections and connections with Desert Hot Springs, and to provide for information and assistance service, was moved from the first to the second floor of the telephone office on Palm Canyon drive. This was done to provide for the installation of additional switchboard positions and the employment of more operators during the busy hours.

Moving the switchboard upstairs also provided space for the installation of equipment for 300 additional line circuits. Central office equipment is on order for 600 additional line circuits, but the manufacturer will not be able to deliver the equipment until next summer.

MR. NASH said additions are also being made to the outside distribution plant. Recently the underground conduit system was extended south on Indian avenue from Amado road to Arenas road and a large underground cable is being placed to provide additional telephone circuits to the southern portion of Palm Springs. A large underground cable is also being placed north of the telephone office on Palm Canyon drive to provide for the installation of service to applicants in the northern section. A mile of buried cable has been placed and is being spliced up on East Ramon road to provide telephone facilities east of the airport. It was necessary to place this mile of cable underground for the clearance of airplanes using the runway of the airport. The telephone construction crews are placing aerial cables and aerial wire circuits at many other locations in the Palm Springs exchange.

The dial central office equipment for the installation of additional telephones in the Cathedral City and Rancho Mirage sections will not be available until late next summer, Nash stated. In order to provide for the installation of telephone service for a large number of the applicants in these sections, a temporary common battery switching office is being installed in Cathedral City.

THE EQUIPMENT installers have completed the installation of the switchboard. The construction crews have been busy for the past month placing additional aerial cables and aerial wire circuits. The construction work is now largely completed and the new temporary manual office will be cut into service on December 1, 1947. On that date the present telephone in the Cathedral City and Rancho Mirage sections will be transferred to the new switchboard.

Telephones will be installed for waiting applicants as quickly as the crews can construct the required lines and install the telephones. As soon as the required additional dial central office equipment and cable for the outside plant is available, work will be started on dial facilities to replace this temporary manual central office. If the manufacturers are able to meet their delivery schedules the new dial equipment will be ready for the 1948-1949 season.

This Side of Sun...

NOT SO LONG ago The Sun chronicled the appearance of the first elevator in Palm Springs—at Bullock's new store... Three or four people called in to say: "Hey, there's been an elevator at the Desert Inn for years." Well, I can stop blushing... A call to the Inn revealed there had not been an elevator there for years and wasn't one now... Maybe the people calling in were just feeling high... comes another telephone call: "Whaddya mean you're the first newspaper in Palm Springs. The Sun didn't come out until August, 1927, and I've a copy of the Red Front Store News dated August, 1914." ... Yeah, but The Sun is still here.

BUT HERE'S ONE I will have to apologize for... Seems I promoted Dr. Samuel Salingier of Chicago the other day when I called him a former colonel... In a letter received this week he writes: "Thanks for the 'commission' but I'm not the Col. Salingier who was at Torney... I'm just a man who discovered Palm Springs in 1930 and have been coming back every year since and Boy, how it has grown!"

In 1930 there was no fire department, no movie, few streets and few lights... Einstein and Jimmy Walker were the distinguished guests that season... The El Mirador was just beginning to develop under the progressive management of Warren Pinney... Bing Crosby (just beginning to become famous) used to come down week-ends and entertain at the pool... George Gershwin occupied one of the cottages and kept us awake half the night with his piano... For that nice letter I'll raise the ante and make him a general.

IT'S NICE to be invited out for Thanksgiving dinner... No traffic jams in the kitchen... No wondering whether it's two of this and one of that with a dash of what or two of that and one of this... No heart-in-the-throat carving, wondering whether the drafted bird is going to skid against the wall-paper or plop someone in the eye... No sitting around stifling yawns, wondering when they were going to go... (Hospitable soul)... No floundering for excuses to get out of helping with the dishes... On the other hand, no cold turkey today, no gnawing on the drumstick which you held out on the company, no croquettes tomorrow or soup Sunday... Oh, well, pass the filet mignon... Besides, it was nice of them to ask us.

NOW THAT the Clean-Up slogan contest is at an end and I was ineligible to compete anyway, I can enter my bit! Be hep, get groovy, do it reet. Don't toss that paper in the street.

Museum Notes

LLOYD MASON SMITH

Last week was a busy week at the Desert Museum. Besides the regular Tuesday night natural history films, which were shown to a capacity audience, there was a star-gazer walk on Wednesday night—attended by 35 people—who were able in spite of the clouds and the cold, to distinguish 10 constellations. Thursday at the Lions Club luncheon the Museum director, Lloyd Mason Smith, delivered a talk entitled "Our Unknown Colorado Desert"; and that evening he presented a special program to a capacity audience at the Town Hall in Cathedral City, consisting of three motion pictures—"The Earth in Motion", "Exploring the Universe", and the ever popular short film, "Rattlesnake Battles Roadrunner".

Friday night the sixth in the series of film classics was presented to Museum members, "The Love Parade", starring Jeanette MacDonald and Maurice Chevalier. This coming Friday, November 28, the scheduled film classic is "All Quiet on the Western Front", and also the sound sequence from Al Jolson's picture "The Jazz Singer" and the first Mickey Mouse sound film, "Steamboat Willie".

LAST SATURDAY'S field-trip to Eagle Canyon attracted the following 25 persons, who braved the cold and threatening weather and were rewarded with a glimpse of the eagle's nest and the view of the profile of George Washington, as well as each participant having a taste of the dates from the California Fan Palm. David C. Baird, James Blue, Helen M. Chatworthy, Mrs. Richard Dix, Bessie M. Edmonds, Robert P. Franck, Ellis S. Gottbehet, Kay Harper, Frank Hartman, Kathleen B. Head, Verna Hobbs, Hannah R. Jay, Hal Lealand, Minnie Lewis, Edith Ludwig, Hedwig Ludewig, J. J. McCarthy, Sandra Marshall, George F. Miller, Dennis Ohler, Charles Potts, Gene Potts, Lillian Stoorman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Verhagen, Michael Van Dame.

The hike this coming Saturday will be to Cathedral Canyon back of Cathedral City, and will start at 10 a.m.

NEW MEMBERS to the Museum during the week were: Mrs. Grace Buss, Frank Hartman and Peggy Riley, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. F. Mack Moore, Miss Eleanor Pinkham, Mrs. J. E. Pinkham and Mrs. H. B. Wilbur, Dr. F. A. Purcell, Miss Trudy Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. George Verhagen, Haight, Trippett & Syverson, Mrs. Ethel Hasenbusch and Abe Adelman.

The following specimens have been received: Oliver Hopson, tarantula; Milton Knapp, 2 chuckawallas and pottery fragments from Point Happy; Jim Maynard, chuckawalla; Dickie Poliak, two California toads (one named "Horace", the other "Happy"); Calvin Strandlund, desert minnows; Melvin Capper, red racer; and Hank Haman, praying mantis.

Tonight's film is of an American Museum expedition—"The Sahara Desert"—with commentary by the Museum director. Next Sunday morning, November 30, the first bird-walk of the season will be conducted under the direction of William Norman Jupe. All persons interested meet at the end of Ramon road (nearest Tahquitz Canyon) at 7 a.m.

Through error it was announced that the Film Classic to be shown at the museum this Friday, November 28th, would include the sound sequences from "The Jazz Singer," Al Jolson's famous picture. The program will consist, instead of a movietone newsreel interview with George Bernard Shaw; the first Mickey Mouse sound film, "Steamboat Willie"; and "All Quiet on the Western Front," starring Lew Ayres.

Among objects donated to the museum this week were four excellent Cahuilla baskets brought in by Miss Cornelia B. White. All of these baskets contain a rattlesnake design and one of them is ornamented along the edge with desert quail plumes. Basket-making is now a lost art among the local Indians and these are excellent examples of their work which is rated the best in the United States. They were made by Guadalupe Arenas.

Also donated this week was a mounted roadrunner by Carl Gann of San Bernardino. This is the bird that has been known to kill rattlesnakes, although it prefers to feed upon lizards and other snakes.

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A PIXIE?

... No they're not like me ... I'm a Lion ... But they're cute too! Well ... they're real Pixies, not invisible ones. They're made in many colors ... and they assume a number of odd positions ... They kneel ... They sit ... They lie down ... They crawl ... and they sometimes come attached to ash trays or some similar object ... But they're made of pottery and can't actually move ... so you'll have to stop by yourself and see them in the shop. But you'll be glad you did ... for I think you'll agree that they're the most novel ... and clever ... and really adorable decorations for the home you've ever seen. Do come in ... I'd like to have you see a real Pixie. Be seeing you ...

in Cathedral City—"Come Out Tonight"

Community Church Choir News

Those present at the Sunday evening Community church service November 16 enjoyed some of the most impressive choral music heard in Palm Springs for some time.

G. Willard Bassett, minister of music of the Santa Ana Spurgeon Memorial church capably directed his choir of sixty responsive voices in a diversified program of well-known sacred songs, anthems and spirituals.

The intonation, timbre and phrasing accomplished by these high school and college young men and women, revealed many hours of tedious work by both director and singers. One could not help being stirred emotionally when listening to such melodic selections as: "I Heard A Forest Praying," "Listening to the Lambs," "Dry Bones," the ever-popular "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel" and as a fitting climax to a very delightful concert, the dramatic and soul-inspiring "The Heaven's Are Telling" from the oratorio "The Creation."

FULL CREDIT for this wonderful evening of music having been presented here, goes to Mrs. Holly Visel. Before coming to the Village she directed this outstanding vocal group while residing in Santa Ana. Her superb musicianship was exemplified, when during the latter part of the program, she was given the opportunity to direct the singers in several numbers.

Wednesday meeting, 8 p.m.
Sunday School, 9:30 a.m.
The Reading Room is located upstairs in The Center.

Not to be forgotten was the able support given by the youth orchestra, pianist, organist and trumpeters.

THROUGHOUT THE NATION during the Yule-tide season will be heard the magnificent musical work heralding the coming of the Christ-child, "Handel's 'Messiah.'" Palm Springs residents will also be able to hear it at the Community church, December 21. Mrs. Holly Visel is vigorously rehearsing the choir to achieve choral perfection. The local singers will be augmented by forty others from out of town. The soprano and baritone solos will be sung by two well-known local singers, Mrs. Violet Fowler and Rev. James Blackstone Jr., pastor of the Community church.

Christian Science Society Will Meet At Woman's Club

Beginning with Thanksgiving services yesterday Christian Science Society of Palm Springs will hold its meeting at the Woman's Clubhouse, 314 South Cahuilla road. The change was made necessary to accommodate the increasing attendance.

Sunday school classes will continue at the church building, 271 Ocotillo avenue. The change in meeting places will continue until further notice.

Christian Science society is opening a reading room in The Center on December 1. The public is cordially invited to use this reading room.

A trash fire in a vacant lot in the north end of the Village resulted in a fire alarm Monday morning. No damage was reported.

Community Church Congregation to Study Expansion

An important meeting of the Community church congregation and corporation will be held immediately after the morning service Sunday at 12:00 o'clock, to consider the recommendations of the joint board of elders and trustees relating to the enlargement of the sanctuary and the construction of educational and social facilities for a more adequate church program. All members and contributing friends of the Community church are urged to attend.

At the morning worship hour, Rev. James H. Blackstone, Jr., will preach on the subject, "Working for God."

"One of the high privileges belonging to the Christian is that of being a partner with God in His great undertaking of building His Kingdom," the pastor said. "Such a partnership cannot be entered into without consideration, vision, and dedication on our part. A great task faces us; let us do it in a manner that shall please Him."

A nursery is conducted during the morning service to care for little children. At 6:15 p.m. the Senior High Christian Endeavor society will meet in the manse parlor. The Junior high group meets at the same time in the social room of the church. The subject of discussion is the "Creation of the World". Furl McMillen and Jim Blackstone will sing a duet.

The evening service commences at 7:30 o'clock with a short song service under the direction of Holly Lash Visel. Mr. Blackstone will preach a short gospel message which will be followed by a motion picture entitled "Liquor as a Doctor Sees It". The high school choir will sing.

Rent Board Will Not Recommend Decontrol Now

The Riverside Rent Advisory board, which was recently recommended by Governor Earl Warren to the Housing Expediter in Washington, for the present time, will not recommend decontrol of rental housing accommodations for the area until the present housing shortage has been remedied, Ted C. Buck, rancher, businessman and chairman of the five-man Rent Advisory board, disclosed today.

John Holditch of Palm Springs is a member of the board.

THE NEW HOUSING and Rent
Act of 1947 provided for the creation of a Rent Advisory board in each area to recommend decontrol or the adequacy of the general rent level in the area.
Mr. Buck said that the Riverside board has agreed that for the present, and until such time as the board completes a further study of the entire rental housing problem, controls should be continued, and that no general rent level increase should be made.

Mr. Buck pointed out that under the provisions of the new Housing and Rent Act of 1947 landlords may petition the Area Rent Office for increases based on hardship, and that the use of the D-56 in its simplified form will give those landlords who have had a decline in their net income before interest based on increased cost of taxes and operating costs relief; also that adjustments will be made on individual basis rather than on county-wide blanket increases.

HE OUTLINED four provisions of the new Federal Rent Control Act to inform property owners interested in renting homes of their rights. These are:

1. If a structure has been in existence since February 1, 1945, and was not rented at any time between February 1, 1945, and January 31, 1947, it does not have a rent ceiling.
2. Any newly constructed accommodation which was completed on or after February 1, 1947, is automatically decontrolled.
3. A landlord may enter in a voluntary written agreement with his tenant to increase his rent up to but not more than fifteen per cent of his maximum legal rent, the lease to continue in effect until December 31, 1948.
4. All bona fide hotels and motel serving transient guests exclusively are decontrolled.

It was brought to this country by Louis Ritter of New York.

This red streamlined car, which many Villagers have seen driving from Palm Springs to Palm Desert, boasts a competition engine and can travel 150 miles per hour. The De La Haye is upholstered in beige leather. It is outfitted with matching luggage, a small leather bar, and traveling vanity case.

Art Butler, maitre 'd at the Colonial House, was experiencing the thrills of grand-fatherhood this week.

He received word from his daughter, Mrs. Myron C. Peterson, Morro Bay, that a son was born to her November 21. The new baby was named Craig Conway Peterson.

Judge E. E. Theriault, an S.C. grad, and Charles Burket were among Villagers lucky enough to have tickets to see the Trojans edge U.C.L.A. 6-0 last Saturday.

Improvement of Highway 99 First, Valley's Plea

4-Lane Highway Is Urged

State Also Plans
Safer Thoroughfare East
Of Cathedral City

Construction of a four-lane highway along the present route of Highway 99 from the junction north of the Village to Indio between the same points but via Palm Springs, had the united support of Coachella valley representatives today.

Work on the route along Highway 99 before action on Highway 111 was urged as a means of keeping heavy truck and through traffic on that artery instead of bringing it down through the Village and Cathedral City.

THE STATE will start work this winter, it is believed, on a wider, safer road from the junction to Palm Springs as announced in The Sun several weeks ago. If a major highway were built from here to Indio before the main and shorter route from the junction to Indio via 99 was built, the heavy, through traffic would be diverted to highway 111.

This traffic, it was said, would bring little revenue to the communities along its route but would create a dangerous traffic hazard.

REPRESENTATIVES of Indio, Coachella, Mecca, Thermal, Oasis, Cathedral City and Palm Springs met recently with E. E. Wallace at Coachella to discuss highway problems and urged early action

Blood Bank for Village

Amvet Post Sponsors Plan To Save Lives;
Awards Certificates of Merit; Changes Dates

Post 34 of Palm Springs Amvets in special session Monday night voted to accept the recommendation of the executive committee in awarding three certificates of merit, launched a campaign to create a blood bank at the Palm Springs Community hospital to be used in saving lives and changed meeting dates to avoid conflict with other meeting nights long established in the Village.

Certificate of Merit awards were voted for Rudy Vallee, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur P. Davis and Lee Bering. All three certificates are to be awarded for outstanding service on the part of these persons to the Amvets since organization almost two years ago. Only three are allowed the post annually.

DR. CLAUDE H. CHURCH was appointed chairman of a "Blood Bank Committee" assisted by ex-World War II War Nurses Mrs. Lorraine Harper and Miss Esther Yurman. The committee plans to launch a Village-wide campaign to create a register of the different blood types in the community. Persons on this roll will be called upon in emergency to donate blood to save somebody's life or in the event of city-wide disaster.

"All a person has to do now," announced Dr. Church, "is to present himself at the Community Hospital and have his blood typed."

THE "BLOOD BANK" campaign was decided upon by Amvets following the report by Dr. Church, that a life at the Community Hospital had been saved in the nick of time by a blood on a four-lane highway along present 99 from the junction, where the present four-lane highway from Los Angeles ends, to Indio.

A motion was adopted and forwarded to the state highway commission asking early action.

THE MOTION, adopted after presentation by Harry Harper, secretary-manager of the local chamber of commerce, was:

"It is the unanimous consensus of this meeting that the construction of a four-lane divided highway along the approximate present route of Highway 99 between Whitewater and Indio is of first priority and should be constructed prior to major construction on state route 111 between Palm Springs and Indio."

IN THE MEANTIME steps to make Highway 111 safer for local traffic east of Cathedral City were being taken by the state highway crews.

Included in the state budget was an $85,000 project covering four-tenths of a mile just east of Cathedral City from a point .1 mile east to a point .5 mile east. Grading and surfacing at Rocky Point to eliminate the sharp, narrow, dangerous curve there is planned.

IMPROVEMENT of the highway farther east for the convenience of traffic between the Village and Wonder Palms, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert, Palm Dell, Palm Village, La Quinta and other Palm Valley points is also contemplated.

Surveying crews have been reported in the area and several sharp curves and danger spots will be eliminated and the road widened.

County to Operate 3 Million Dollar String of Airports

Commission Set Up
To Manage Fields
Acquired from Army

Board of supervisors Monday adopted an ordinance under which the county will operate a string of airports valued at $3,000,000.

The ordinance becomes effective in 30 days and provides for an airport commission of three members to be appointed by the board.

IT ALSO CREATES a special fund to be known as the airport fund, into which all income from operation of the county airports will be paid and from which the money for expenses will be taken, and sets up an advisory committee of 10 members, two from each supervisorial district, to assist the airport commission.

THE MEETING DATE was changed to the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Previously the organization met on the first and third Mondays and this was found to interfere with other meetings long established here, working a hardship on Amvet members who had two meetings to attend.

Another innovation to be used henceforth at all regular meetings was introduced, that of serving refreshments after business of the organization has been concluded.

Recuperating

Los Angeles Sportsman
Meets Woe at Etiwanda

W. E. Hearn, Los Angeles sportsman, is at the Desert Inn this week recuperating—from all things—from a fall from a horse. An expert rider, he stopped over at Austin's ranch in the Etiwanda area, to do a bit of riding and got a horse that didn't know an expert from a dub.

The result was a broken shoulder. Hearn will be here for some time soaking up the sun to ease the aching shoulder.

He is taking a lot of ribbing from his friends who insist that since he's from from Missouri, he should stick to the brand of ridin' animal for which Missouri is famous.

Desert District Now
Has 1045 Enrolled

Enrollment in Desert School district schools as of last week was 1045, Miss Katherine Finchy, district superintendent reported. This represents a gain of 20 in the past two weeks.

Last year peak enrollment, not reached until March, was 935.

Cripps from Party: Time Reverses Roles

By DONALD BELL

(Copyright, 1947, Overseas News Agency, Inc.)

NEW YORK (ONA)—The dramatic resignation of Hugh Dalton as Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer and the naming of Sir Stafford Cripps as his successor has its amusing sidelights. If Sir Stafford were not such a stern and religious man who abhors any idea of revenge in politics as well as in personal life, he could not help rejoicing over the defeat of one of his oldest enemies in the Labor movement, especially since London's Conservative newspapers have welcomed the change as a shift to the Right. For it was Mr. Dalton who, less than a decade ago, ousted Sir Stafford Cripps from the Labor Party because of his Leftist tendencies.

Neither Dalton nor Cripps is the prototype of the proletarian Labor leader; they are upper class renegades. Hugh Dalton, who is now about 60, was the son of Canon Dalton, Domestic Chaplain to the King. When he was a child, playing around in the Royal Palace, he used to call himself proudly "Queen Elizabeth's little darling." He was educated at Eton, started his career as a professor of economics at London University and joined the Labor party after the first World War.

FIRST ELECTED to the House of Commons in 1924, he always belonged to the party's Right-wing and had a reputation as the foremost masher of all radical, independent or Leftist movements which developed inside the party during the 1930's. As an old friend of Ernest Bevin, Herbert Morrison and Clement Attlee, he obviously did not expect that his long and distinguished career would come to a sudden end because of a bit of loose talk to a journalist friend. In submitting his letter of resignation to the Prime Minister, he wrote: "If you accept it," hinting at his desire to stay in office.

But Prime Minister Attlee used the opportunity to get rid of a man who during the last year had supported the Leftist forces in the Cabinet, especially Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan, War Secretary Emanuel Shinwell and Food Minister John Strachey, all of whom formerly were closely aligned with Sir Stafford Cripps.

Cripps is the scion of an old Conservative family. He is the ninth member of his family, in four generations, to be elected to the House of Commons. His father, three uncles, grand-uncle, two great-grandfathers and his great-great-grandfather were Members of Parliament before him. Father Alfred Cripps, who later assumed the title of Lord Parmoor of Frieth, taking thereby the name of the house and the village where Stafford was born in 1889, had been a Conservative Member of Parliament since 1895. Stafford entered political life in 1908, at the age of 19, avowedly without any interest in politics. But at that time his father was up for re-election, and Stafford, who remained a family man throughout his life, simply wanted his father to win. He therefore started his career by campaigning for the Conservatives.

WHEN WAR was declared in 1914, the young man who had already established a reputation as an ecclesiastical lawyer, became a soldier. It was in France that he got an intestinal disease which has plagued him throughout life. It was not a matter of conviction, as has been widely assumed, but on the advice of his doctors that he stopped eating meat and even cooked vegetables. His diet consists merely of fresh fruit, raw vegetables, cheese and bread. This brought him the nickname of "Christ-and-Carrots" Cripps. But it also explains his ascetic character. A man who has the moral strength to follow such medical advice for decades must find it easy to demand "austerity" from his compatriots if it is necessary for the nation's health.

There was no material reason for a man like Stafford Cripps to join the Labor party in 1927. He was then Britain's leading corporation lawyer, an authority on patent law, earning about $40,000 annually and saving much of it.

He had been active in the church movement and could look forward to a wonderful, peaceful career.

But Cripps had not only made up his mind to fight for drastic social reforms in Britain; when Ramsey MacDonald tried to split the Labor party in 1929, he joined the Left-Wing critics of the Labor movement and soon became their acknowledged leader. His closest friends were Aneurin Bevan, Harold Laski, and G. R. Strauss, who represented London's slum district of Lambeth in the House of Commons. There were the men who, in the later 1930's, campaigned for a united front with the Independent Labor Party and with the Communists, and who somewhat late advocated a Popular Front of all "anti-Fascist" forces, including the Liberal party, against Neville Chamberlain's appeasement policy. Among them were John Strachey, who comes from a family of Conservative writers.

IT WAS DURING that period that Hugh Dalton became Cripps' sworn enemy. Dalton even injected a personal note into the internal controversy by declaring that the Popular Front was a "rich man's toy." Patricia Strauss, author of a Cripps biography, reports with bitterness how Dalton suggested that because Cripps and others supporting him were "men of means," his political campaign was an artificial one whipped up by the expenditure of vast amounts of money. It was Dalton who asked the Labor party convention for Cripps' expulsion in January, 1939.

Cripps' economic program is now praised by the Conservative press. But the records of Dalton and Cripps should prove to the impartial observer that the words "Left" and "Right" are inadequate to describe the inner struggle going on in the British Labor party. It is quite possible that the roles of these two men, which were reversed once before, might change a second time.

Charter Night for Rotary at Desert
Hot Springs Dec. 5

Rotarians and their wives from throughout Southern California will attend the charter night ceremonies of the newly-formed Desert Hot Springs Rotary Club Friday night, December 5.

The club has been sponsored by the Palm Springs Rotary Club with Arthur E. Bailey, who was the leader in the formation of the local Rotary unit, as the special representative of Rotary International. Nearly 25 business men of Desert Hot Springs are in the club whose first president is Dan Duxley, owner of a drug store there and former Rotarian from Downey.

AN ELABORATE DINNER program is being planned for the Charter Night party at the Idle Hour Cafe. Guests will be present from dozens of clubs scattered across Southern California. Arrangements for the night's program have been completed here under the direction of Mr. Bailey, Robert W. Peterson, secretary of the Palm Springs Club, and Harry Harper who will serve as master of ceremonies. Jack Boyer will serve a steak dinner barbecue style.

Gifts from the Southland clubs to the newly formed group have been arriving daily, according to a report from Mr. Peterson. These include all the equipment necessary for a club to "set up housekeeping." Virtually all members of the Palm Springs club and their wives are expected to attend the gala affair.

Doing the Village with Moya Henderson

Villagers had cameras primed on Saturday waiting for the snow to start falling and it not only looked as if it might, it felt like it (apologies to the Chamber of Commerce). Many reported snow in Banning so we called the constabulary of the Pass city and got a negative response although they admitted it was far from warm and striking mighty close. Roy Medby was down from Idyllwild this week end and reported lots of that white stuff floating around up there. All of which reminds us we're anxious to get up to Hidden Lodge and try that new toboggan slide and get Tommi Tyndall to teach us how to stay standing while on skis.

THE JOE OMLINS had a very pleasant surprise last Wednesday when they received a telegram from son Donald stating he would be home on the following day on a thirty day leave from his Coast Guard station in Boston. Donny is a good example of "Join the service and see World" for he's been helping the recruiting program and has seen a good deal of his own country besides doing a stretch in Newfoundland. There's no place like home though and it's good to see him back.

In the Village over the week end were Eleanor and Jimmy Shea. Spotted them Sunday lunching with the Chuck McGannns. Jimmy says it's just like being a tourist but the Shea's could never be so classified in Palm Springs. Up from Arizona and visiting with the Ken DuBoses is Ken's mother who is well known in the Village and was a very active Red Cross worker here during the war. That lovely bouquet at the entrance to Ken and Ruth's new toy store was sent from El Centro by Laura and Jerry DuBose also ex-Palm Springers.

TO BORROW A PHRASE from Cholly Angelino "Things I've enjoyed recently"—a visit with Mrs. Esther Gordan in her lovely Las Palmas home. It is a rare sight to see such collector's items, paintings by masters, priceless objects of art, furnishings from all parts of the world, blended together in elegant perfection.

Those Purnells, Anne and Elmo, aren't content with a new car now they're the owners of a lovely new home in Rancho Royale and Ann is spending many busy hours with Wanda and George Alles planning a modern interior.

GETTING into the festive holiday spirit were the one hundred and more guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Staley and Mrs. Alice Guthrie at the Guthrie home on Sunday afternoon. Cocktails were served from four to eight followed by a curry supper a la Bombay. Both Helen Staley and Mrs. Guthrie looked lovely and the latter delighted her guests with her very new knitted gold cocktail slippers.

Well, the clouds have gone drifting by and what will the wild flowers do then poor things. Too bad we can't have a beautiful showing this spring while there are still a few acres of desert left unsubdivided.

Lou Eaton Oliver, 120 South Palm Canyon drive, this week was issued a notary public commission by the office of secretary of state at Sacramento.

Dec. 5 Deadline For New Directory Out Next January

The 1948 issue of the Palm Springs City Directory is scheduled to appear January 1st, and deadline was declared by the publisher, Grover Inskeep, as December 5th. "There are many changes no doubt", said Inskeep, "and in order to have every Villager and winter visitor listed in the forthcoming, handsome new book, it will be necessary for everyone to send in his name and address, and or any changes that have taken place in the past few weeks".

Mr. Inskeep stated that Palm Springs had been thoroughly canvassed but that some might have been missed, due to their absence from the city, not being home at the times called on, or not seen for some other reason. He urged these to fill out the form that appears elsewhere in these pages, if they want to make sure that their names, addresses, and other important information may be included in the directory.

Attention was called to those who may have had a recent change in address or telephone number. "There is still time to get in the directory", said Inskeep, "but the deadline is definitely December 5th."

Indians Bow to Perris High, 25 to 13

Determined Palm Springs High Squad Puts Up Stiff Battle to the Final Whistle

Cold as it was last Friday, the good ole football spirit was still apparent as the Perris Bears defeated the Palm Springs Indians by the score of 25 to 13 on the Perris gridiron.

Immediately after the opening kick the Bears started their victorious drive. Their outstanding runner, who played with a cast on his arm, drove the ball in short runs over the goal for a Bear touchdown. The conversion was no good and the score was 6 to 0. Moments afterwards, this same player brought the ball within striking distance. Perris scored their second touchdown on a short pass. The conversion was again blocked and the score was 12 to 0.

THE GAME APPEARED somewhat one-sided but the Indians were determined and were far from being thoroughly beaten. Right End Lopez, on one of the most spectacular runs of the day, took a naked reverse for 62 yards down the sidelines into pay dirt. The attempt to convert was no good and the score was 12 to 6 as the half ended.

During the second half the Indians were hampered by fumbles and intercepted passes. The Bears on one of these occasions recovered the ball close to the Palm Springs goal. On a few short passes they obtained another touchdown. The conversion pass was good and the score was 19 to 6. Perris continued with another threat. The Bears recovered a fumble on the Indians' 25-yard line. The game being a little on the rough side, Coach Ballagh came running out on the field.

THIS INCIDENT broke a football rule which states that no coach may come on the field except in case of injury. The result is that the Indians were penalized and the ball was taken to the 10-yard line. On the next play the Bears took the ball around end for a touchdown. The conversion was no good and the score stood at 25 to 6.

Palm Springs still would not give up. Ed Weiss on another brilliant run intercepted a pass and raced 60 yards for a touchdown. The conversion pass was caught by Cervantes. The final score was Perris 25, Palm Springs 13.

U.S.C. Choir Heard In Annual Concert At H.S. Assembly

The annual A'Capella Choir Tour, originated in 1946 by the University of Southern California, made their visit to the Palm Springs High School, November 20. Under the direction of Dr. Charles C. Hirt, the choir rendered a few sacred hymns and novelty numbers.

The program began with the beautifully arranged "Hallelujah Amen," by Handel and "O Magnum Mysterium," by Vittorini. "Night and Day," by Cole Porter sung by Dolores Peterson, and "A Little Bit of Heaven," sung by John McGowan, "The Irish Tenor," received the heartiest acclaim. "Dry Bones," a Negro spiritual, arranged by Gearhart, was humorously sound-effected by Gene Simmons, whose antics with the kitchen utensil section practically brought down the house. Also on the program were "Song of the Volga Boatman," "Low Lands," by Chantey-Scott, "The Spirit of the Lord Done Fell on Me," arranged by Cain.

The performance given at the Palm Springs High School was the fifth in the tour of the U.S.C. A'Capella choir. The tour started on November 17 with a concert at Phoenix, Arizona. Other concerts took place at Mesa and Glendale, Arizona, El Centro, Brawley, Anaheim and the final performance at San Bernardino on November 21.

Aside from his duties at the University of Southern California, Dr. Hirt is Minister of Music at the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood, California.

Sadie's Day

But It'll be the Woman Who Pays

If you happen to be out at the high school Friday, November 25, don't be alarmed to see some of the students dressed as if they are from the Ozark hills. They're coming to school portraying characters from "Lil Abner" in the comic strip—such as Daisy May, Lil' Abner himself and many others. It's just Sadie Hawkins day, a tradition at P.S.H.S.

And tonight the Junior class is going to give a Sadie Hawkins dance at 8:00 o'clock in the auditorium at the high school. This night it's a horse of a different color, because for once the boys can sit back and relax—letting the girls choose them for a while. (Ed. note: The poor girls have to pay for their date's ticket to the dance as well as their own.)

"There Is Only One

On the War Path

Now that football is over, our sports eye turns to basketball and this brings up a point that certainly is interesting. A problem has presented itself; a beautiful gym, not being used at the present time, perfectly situated, is going to be dormant for the season while the local team does what it can for itself. They may have it to play their home games at another gym as far away as Coachella, and practice on our own outdoor courts. A few years ago this was O. K., but now when the local teams in the league insist on hard wood floors to play on, it becomes necessary to get a gym; also due to the fact we do not have much sunlight, and darkness moves in so fast without a gym, practices will have to be cut very short. In general the outlook for the team is black, at least every obstacle in the book has been laid in front of them. Practicing on one type of court, playing on another will work many hardships on the players.

Granted our Principal and coach are trying very hard to get the gym, but should the Army through red tape and every other excuse, not see eye to eye with our request, we are in trouble.

The Far EastFace of War Has Changed in Asia;
Cheap Conquest No Longer Possible

By OWEN LATTIMORE

(Copyright, 1947, Overseas News Agency, Inc.)

WASHINGTON (ONA)—For more than two years since the end of the war with Japan, wide areas in Asia have been torn by a particularly grim and bloody kind of "peace." In these industrially and technologically backward parts of the world there have been some remarkable and probably very significant developments in the art of war—especially war as mixed with politics.

These developments are of a kind usually overlooked by professional students of war, because the professional student and practitioner of war is inclined to concentrate on the weapons which represent the most up-to-date technological achievements, such as atomic weapons and guided missiles.

THE FIRST THING to do is to look at the record of civil war and colonial war in Asia since V-J Day. In China, the side which has had the most master-minding from professional Western soldiers has been steadily losing ground. In Indo-China the French, using large numbers of Nazi war prisoners in the Foreign Legion—many of them tough, hardened youngsters of Rommel's Afrika Korps who have been fighting since their teens—have been fought to a standstill. They have recently switched their main military effort from the south to the north of Indo-China—a confession in itself that they have not been able so far to get the results they wanted.

In Indonesia the Dutch, using large numbers of troops from Holland, smashed into positions which, it was hoped, would prove "decisive." Their successes, however, have been completely indecisive. Every few days there is a report of fresh troops being shipped from Holland. The costs, both in manpower and in dollars, are exhausting for a small country like Holland.

TO GET THE FULL significance of this picture, it must first be compared with the record of the past and then be projected into the future.

In the 18th and 19th centuries, when the great colonial empires were carved out, colonial warfare had two outstanding characteristics. A small, relatively well-equipped European force could cut and shoot its way through much greater numbers of Asiatics; and a European nation could always raise, in the very country in Asia in which it was fighting, native troops or "sepoys" which were cheaper than Europeans and suffered most of the casualties. When the British and French fought each other in India in the 18th century, they relied largely on native troops. When the British later conquered the whole of India for themselves, they relied more and more on Indians to fight other Indians.

Similarly the Dutch in Indonesia once relied confidently on their native troops, especially the Ambonese, and the French found that the Annamese and Tonkinese made good colonial troops. That has all been changed now. To muffle the news about their use of German war prisoners, the French would love to be able to send out reports of loyal native troops fighting gallantly under the Tricolor. They can't. The Dutch, who have no Foreign Legion (and Legionaries are the cheapest white cannon-fodder in the world, a point worth noting), would feel a lot better if they could report that Indonesians from the Celebes and other islands not occupied by the Indonesian Republic were fighting loyally under the Dutch to crack the Republic. They can't, any more than the French can.

THE AMERICAN READER should carefully note, every time he sees a story in the papers about somebody in Indo-China who has come out for the French, or somebody in Indonesia who is siding with the Dutch, that these stories always refer to individuals, never to popular movements. Sometimes the Dutch do put out a story about the people of some district welcoming Dutch forces; but note that these stories always give a picture of hapless civilians, welcoming troops that are Dutch; they never seem to demand arms in order to fight alongside the Dutch.

The news reflects a fundamental development in the art of war in Asia; politics has become intertwined with war. In the 18th and 19th centuries, few people in Asia had much sense of belonging to a nation. They were subjects of some emperor or rajah or spiritual overlord. In military service for him they got more kicks than ha' pence. It was often quite attractive to fight for some foreign invader who gave good uniforms, dependable pay, and regular rations. Now it is different. Every mother's son in Asia knows the difference between a patriot and a traitor. Every American who gets the chance ought to try asking one of the Indonesians whom the Dutch occasionally bring to this country, to Lake Success, how he defines patriotism and loyalty. The Asiatic in European service today is no longer a "inscrutable oriental." He is a sheepish-looking human being with a bad conscience.

IN ADDITION to the flowing together of politics and war, there are new developments in the practice of war itself. The previously unarmed and inexperienced Chinese, Annamese, or Indonesian who gets hold of an American rifle, machine gun, radar sender, or truck no longer needs an American or European instructor to show him how to employ these useful adjuncts to self-defense and patriotism. He has adequate instructors on his own side—not foreigners, but fellow-countrymen.

The loss of the foreigner's near-monopoly in military superiority extends into the fields of tactics and strategy. In China, Indo-China and Indonesia it is noteworthy that there has been a fairly rapid development from purely guerrilla, hit-and-run warfare to the training of regular, full-time soldiers. And in both the fringe of guerrillas and the hard core of full-time soldiers there is proof of careful study of tactics and strategy. They know their weak and strong points of their opponents; they are increasingly successful in dodging the strong points and attacking the weak points.

The overall development can, in fact, be read as a double-ended proposition: resistance movements in Asia have intelligently mastered the military techniques of their foreign or foreign-guided opponents much better than Westerners, since the end of the war, have succeeded in analyzing the political components that enter into colonial warfare—or the quasi-colonial warfare of the American-guided Kuomintang in China.

PROJECTING THE PICTURE into the future, the political conclusions which we ought to draw from these developments are important. In the first place, there are no more cheap empires to be won in Asia by using some of the people of a country to conquer the rest of the people. In the second place, the use of imported troops from your own country to conquer a country in Asia is not necessarily successful, and even if successful threatens to result in an unprofitable form of empire; the capital investment is too high, in relation to the profits that can be expected.

When Washington, The Hague, and Paris have at last got these lessons through their heads, we may be able to begin on political negotiations that lead somewhere.

School Children Undergo Hearing Tests This Week

Preliminary hearing tests are being given children of the Desert School district by Katherine Khury, school nurse, under provisions of Assembly Bill 229, recently adopted, which makes such tests mandatory throughout the state.

All children in the district's schools will be screened in the tests and those found with defective hearing in one or both ears will be given a further test Dec. 15 by Miss Katherine Foster, of the county school staff who will bring a two-tone audiometer with her.

THE TESTS, under the new state law, will determine which children need remedial action. The measure was adopted by the state after testimony that many children were not getting the most out of their classroom work because of defective hearing.

Under supervision of Miss Katherine Finchy, Desert District superintendent, Miss Khury will test the children in all schools of the district before Dec. 15 when the county tests will be made.

Prepare for Holidays

Owen Coffman Unit, Legion Auxiliary, Busy
On Plans for Christmas and New Year

Membership and plans for the approaching holiday season were discussed at a meeting of Owen Coffman Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, at the Desert Inn Fiesta House.

Mrs. Lena Basilone, membership chairman, reported on the progress of the enrollment of new members. In a membership contest Mrs. John Connell and Mrs. Basilone are heading two teams in friendly competition. The losing side will provide entertainment and refreshments at a meeting of the Unit, as a penalty for defeat.

AT THIS TIME an invitation is extended to all eligible women in Palm Springs and vicinity to become members. These include wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of American Legion members; those of persons who died in war service or since honorable discharge; and women who themselves served in the armed forces of either world war.

In membership work this year the local Unit is helping to build a vast national organization of one million members for service to the country and to the disabled war veterans and their dependents. Women who are eligible and wish to enroll are invited to contact any Auxiliary member.

THANKSGIVING BASKETS were provided needy service-connected families, with the Child Welfare committee headed by Mrs. Charles Henderson in charge.

Mrs. John Redding, rehabilitation chairman, is in charge of the Unit's gifts shipped this week to the West Los Angeles Veterans Hospital for the Auxiliary's Christmas Gift Shop there. Neuro-psychiatric patients make their selection of free Christmas gifts for members of their families, and volunteer Auxiliary workers gift wrap and mail the packages for the patients. Similar gift shops are established during the holidays each year by the Auxiliary, in Veterans Hospitals throughout the state.

Mrs. Frank Partridge, community service chairman, reported on the Soroptimist Club's proposed plan for a new Girl Scout house. The Auxiliary voted to cooperate with other women's organizations in supporting the movement.

A FAVORABLE REPORT was given by Mrs. Homer Jenkins, chairman, on the Auxiliary's current activity—the Hope Chest and scheduled dance. The beautiful cedar chest, containing blankets, linens and dainty articles donated by members, is attractively displayed this week at Bullock's. The chest will be given away at the Unit's dance December 6 at the Three Musketeers. Second prize is an all-wool Kenwood blanket and third is a lace table cloth, donated by Westbrook's in Riverside.

Guests at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Arthur Merrill, Mrs. Mabel Anderson, Mrs. A. Grewe, and Miss Esther Yurman. The next regular meeting will be held December 3 at the Fiesta House.

Jap Vision

Many Allied air pilots captured by the Japanese suffered serious impairment of vision because of poor diet, according to the Better Vision institute. Few, however, upon return to normal diet had persistent night blindness.
